A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-3, 6-7 and 9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Kubota et al. (US2002/0051033).

Kubota et al teach a printhead assembly comprising:

- wherein each of the first plurality of printhead dies are offset from and partially overlap an adjacent one of the first plurality of printhead dies (figure 9, blocks 41-44B are overlapped to each other)

- wherein each of the second plurality of printhead dies are offset from and partially overlap an adjacent one of the second plurality of printhead dies (figure 9, blocks 41-44Y are overlapped to each other)

Claim 2:

Claim 3:

- wherein at least one of the first plurality of printhead dies and at least one of the second plurality of printhead dies are aligned in a row (figure 7 teaches another embodiment where 31B and 32C are aligned in a row)

Claim 6:

Claim 7:

- wherein the printhead assembly is substantially symmetrical about the axis oriented substantially perpendicular to the face of the carrier (figure 5)

Claim 9:

- wherein the first color includes one of black, cyan, light cyan, yellow, magenta, and light magenta, and the second color includes another of black, cyan, light cyan, yellow, magenta, and light magenta (figure 9 teaches first plurality of printhead blocks include black and second plurality of printhead blocks include yellow)
